Re: Docket ID: EPA-HQ-OAR-2018-0794

Dear Administrator Wheeler:

The Mercury and Air Toxics Standards have successfully reduced a sweeping array of harmful emissions from power plants, making these safeguards an effective and efficient investment in Americans' health. I am deeply concerned that undermining the enforcement of these standards could result in increased emissions of devastating air pollutants that can cause cancer, asthma attacks, or premature death, including mercury; arsenic, dioxins, and other carcinogens; acid gases; volatile organic compounds; and sulfur dioxide.

On behalf of my family and community, I call on you to continue to enforce the Mercury and Air Toxics Standards, and to abandon any plans to undermine or weaken them.
